

THE WAY-FARING MAN.

By MONTGOMERY.

A poor way-faring man of grief,
Hath once crossed me on my way,
Who used to humbly for relief,
That I could never answer him,
I had no power to ask his name,
Whither he went or whence he came,
Yet there was something in his eye,
That won my love, I knew not why.

Once, when my scanty meal was spread,
He entered—saw a word he spoke;
Just perishing for want of bread,
I gave him all—the best it broke,
And ate, but gave me part again;
Mine was an angel's portion then,
And while I fed with eager haste,
The crust was mine to my taste.

I tried him where a fountain burst
Clear from the rock—his strength was gone,
The heedless water mocked his thirst;
He heard it, saw it hurrying on,
I ran and raised the sufferer up;
Thrice from the stream he drained my cup,
Dipped and returned it running o'er—
I drank and never thirsted more.

'Twas night. The floods were out; it blew
A wintry hurricane aloft; and I
I heard his voice abroad, and flew
To bid him welcome to my roof.
I warmed, I clothed, I cheered my guest,
Laid him on mine own couch to rest,
Then made the earth my bed, and seemed
In Eden's garden while I dreamed.

Stripped, wounded, bled, he lay to death,
I found him by the highway side;
I raised his pulse, brought back his breath,
Revived his spirit, and supplied
Wine, oil, refreshment; he was healed,
I had myself a wound concealed,
But from that hour forgot the smart,
And peace bowed up my broken heart.

In prison I saw him next condemned
To meet a traitor's doom to-morrow;
The tide of living nations turned,
And honored him 'mid shame and scorn.
My friend's! my friend's! my friend's!
He asked if I for him would die;
"O yes," I said, "I will," and he
But the free spirit cried, "I will!"

Then in a moment to my view
The stranger started from disguise;
The tokens in his hands I knew—
My Saviour stood before my eyes;
He spoke, and my poor name he named—
"O yes," I said, "I will," and he
Three deeds shall thy memorial be:
Fear not thou didst it unto me."

NEW WATERPROOFING COMPOSITION FOR COTTON AND OTHER FABRICS.—M. Clete Menotti, of Paris has recently invented and patented the following waterproofing composition which denominates hydrofuge. In a vessel capable of containing 3 gallons place 22 lbs. of alum or sulphate of copper reduced to powder. In a second vessel like the other, place 14 ozs. of oleic acid, or the stearine of commerce, or good soap. The soap or stearine is dissolved by heat in 3 gallons of alcohol, and then poured on the alum or sulphate of copper, and the whole submitted to a high temperature, when the "hydrofuge" is obtained or rather the result of the mixture of these compounds. It can thus be obtained in a dry or moulded state. To waterproof cotton or linen fabrics, dissolve one part by weight of the "hydrofuge" in 100 parts of water dip the cloth in it, and hang it up to dry. Treat silk or paste-board in the same way.

This waterproof composition permits the air to pass through the cloth, but prevents water from doing so. This is a very excellent waterproofing composition; we hope that our readers will take advantage of this information.

DR. FRANKLIN'S FUGITIVE SLAVE LAW.—On the 1st of March, 1776, the Legislature of Pennsylvania passed an act drawn up by Dr. Franklin, to provide for the gradual abolition of slavery within that Commonwealth, the eleventh section of which is as follows:

"That this or any other act in it contained shall not give any relief or shelter to any absconding or runaway negro or mulatto slave or servant who has absconded himself from his or her owner, or mistress residing in any State or county, but such owner, mistress or mistress shall have right and aid to demand, claim and take away his slave or servant, as he might have had in case this act had not been made."

What have the "higher law" men of the present day say to this?

The New Orleans correspondent of the Mobile Register, (dating 13th inst.) after announcing the departure of the Pampero, says:

"There is now here, ready to sail, as soon as supplies and transportations are furnished, about six or seven hundred men, more or less, young and many of them from the leading families of the South and Southern States, who are ready to leave never seen at any time during the Mexican war, volunteering to dare all for freedom's cause."

ANOTHER CUBA EXPEDITION.—The New York correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer, writing on Monday, says:

"In the mean time, friends of Cuban Independence in this city are not idle. There is every reason to believe that a formidable expedition is being fitted out here, and that it will sail before many days. It is said that it will be got up in this way as to the government at Washington, and its agents in this city."

A CLERGYMAN in Scotland desired his hearers never to call on another land, but when they were called to a church, they ought to whistle. One Sunday he preached a sermon on the parable of the leaves and fishes, and being at a loss how to explain it, he said the leaves were not like those now-day's, they were as big as the leaves in Scotland. He had scarcely pronounced the words, when he heard a loud whistle.

"What's that?" said he, "who calls me a liar?"
"It is I, Willy McDonald, the baker."
"Well, Willy, what objections have ye to what I told ye?"

"None, master John, only I wanted to know what sort of ovens they had to bake those loaves in?"

WHEN A GENTLEMAN once remarked in company how very liberally those persons talk of what their neighbors should give away, who are least apt to give away anything themselves; Sydney Smith replied: "Yes! no sooner does a fall in difficulty than B begins to consider what C ought to do for him."

The married ladies of Fairmont, N. J. have organized themselves into an Independent Order of Odd Fellows. Their lodge is kept open half an hour longer at night than the Odd Fellows.

The steamship Florida, Captain Lyons, arrived at this port last evening from Savannah. We are indebted to Mr. Culver, her gentlemanly purser, for intelligence of the movements of the steamer Pampero.

At 2 o'clock, the 23rd inst., at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, the steamer St. Matthew arrived at Savannah from Palatka. She reported that on the morning of that day the steamer Pampero was in Doubt Inlet, where she had just arrived for the purpose of being on board recruits, who were waiting at different points in that vicinity. She was to proceed to Montgomery, a small place on the coast, and then to the interior from Savannah. She would arrive there in the evening. She reported herself, however, bound to Tybee. To the latter place a vessel had been dispatched in pursuit of her. This information was brought to Savannah by passengers by the St. Matthew.—Herald.

Let Congress be laid in the establishment of a steam line to Africa, a step which is demanded by the commercial interests of the country, and the great obstacle to African Colonization, the unwillingness of the free negroes to emigrate, will be removed. It is because the abolitionists foresee this result, that they oppose that movement.—Richmond Engineer.

Pension and Bounty Land Agency.

THE subscriber has opened in the city of Washington an AGENCY for the prosecution of all descriptions of claims against the General Government.

His perfect knowledge of all the Pension Laws, and the places where are deposited all evidence of service now extant, will enable him to establish many claims which have long remained suspended for want of proof and proper attention. He, therefore, offers to the public his services, particularly in the following cases, viz: Suspended and rejected claims under all the Pension Laws, where the pensioners are dissatisfied with their present allowance.

For all those widows who remain, or are entitled to receive, the ten years' pension due on the 4th of March, 1848; under the acts of July 7th, 1838, March 3d, 1843, and June 17th, 1844, being those who were married before the 1st of January, 1834, he will undertake to establish, under the act of February 2d, 1848, their claims to pensions for life, commencing on the 4th of March, 1848, when their pensions under the foregoing acts terminated.

For all those widows of revolutionary officers or soldiers, who were married after 1783, but before January 2d, 1800, he will undertake to establish their claims to pensions for life, commencing on the 4th of March, 1848, under the act of July 29, 1848.

To all those widows of revolutionary pensioners whose claims have been rejected or suspended for want of proof of service, or those who are in the receipt of a pension, and who are entitled to the pension law, less than that received by their husbands under the acts of May 15th, 1828, or June 7th, 1832, he will ensure the same amount per an. as the pensioners now receive.

For the surviving, or the widows, or minor children of deceased officers and privates, who served in the war of 1812 with Great Britain, the Mexican war, or in any of the Indian wars, since 1790. Terms moderate, where the claim is established, otherwise no charge.

PROSPECTUS OF THE NATIONAL MONUMENT, A WEEKLY JOURNAL.

To be published in Washington, under the sanction of the Washington Monument Society. JAMES C. PICKETT, Editor and Publisher.

The MONUMENT is intended to be a literary, agricultural, and miscellaneous paper. It will contain selected portions of the literature of the day—the best that can be found in American and European publications; interesting scientific articles, embracing mechanics, foreign and domestic news; a synopsis of the proceedings of Congress, and everything that such a journal might be expected to contain, with the exception of party politics, which will be at all times most rigorously excluded.

The MONUMENT will be published for the express and sole purpose of aiding in the erection of the noble column now rising on the bank of the Potomac, in honor of the Father of the Country, and which every one who venerates the name of WASHINGTON, would rejoice to see completed. After deducting out of the subscription, the cost of the journal proposed to be published, the remaining funds will be faithfully applied, and without reserve, to the purpose indicated. The aid, therefore, of all who are willing to contribute to so patriotic an object, and one so entirely in accordance with the views of the MONUMENT, is respectfully solicited.

The board of managers recommend Mr. Pickett, formerly Fourth Auditor of the Treasury and Charge d'Affaires to Peru, who proposes to edit and publish the MONUMENT journal, as one well qualified to perform the duties of editor, and to conduct the paper, faithfully, and satisfactorily to the subscribers. They assure their fellow-citizens that this enterprise is not a speculation got up for the purpose of amassing wealth, but a noble and patriotic one, and that they will make the experiment with his own means and at his own risk, and he will receive nothing more, and he asks nothing more, than a very moderate compensation for his services. Not one dollar, therefore, of the direct subscription to the erection of the MONUMENT will be, in any event, applied to the support of the paper, nor the society in any manner held pecuniary responsible.

To give the public an idea of what may be done with the journal it is proposed to publish, it may be stated that a list of fifty thousand paying subscribers, at two dollars each, will yield an annual net profit of from fifty to sixty thousand dollars. The MONUMENT, therefore, is a noble and patriotic enterprise, and one which every citizen should be proud to support.

All money will be remitted, and all letters and communications respecting it, to the General Agent of the Monument Society, Hon. Elisha Whittelsey, Washington.

OFFICERS: MILLARD FILLMORE, ex-officio President, ARCH. HENDERSON, First Vice President, WALTER H. DEXTER, Mayor of Washington, Second Vice President, THOS. CARBERRY, Third Vice President, J. B. SMITH, Treasurer, GEO. WATKINSON, Secretary.

BOARD OF MANAGERS: Winfield Scott, Peter Force, W. W. Seaton, Thomas Moore, M. F. Meade, W. A. Bradley, T. Hartley Crawford, W. R. Fendall, Benj. Elwell Taylor, Walter Jones, Elisha Whittelsey, Hon. Blagden.

The MONUMENT will be printed on a double royal sheet—the paper and type being of the best quality—and in quarto form, containing sixteen large pages, that it may be more easily preserved. The price will be two dollars per annum, payable in advance, or by quarterly payments. The nature of the enterprise not admitting of any credit, none can be given.

Societies and clubs will be furnished with the MONUMENT on the following terms—3 copies for $5; 5 copies, $8; 10 copies, $15, &c. Those who are disposed to patronize the MONUMENT, are requested to forward their names to the general agent, without delay. The first number will be published early in May, and the second on the 30th of August, and weekly thereafter; the third number for the prospectus to be circulated, and for the agents to make returns. As all subscribers will be contributors to the MONUMENT, their names will be published in the paper. April 29, 1851.

100 DOLLARS REWARD
